

		Weightage	Poor	Approaching Expectation	Satisfactory	Good	Excellent
Work Done	Contribution & Effort	25%	Demonstrates minimal effort or commitment to the assigned tasks, resulting in significant failure to fulfill the assigned scope.	Demonstrates inconsistent effort or commitment to the assigned tasks, leading to incomplete or substandard scope fulfillment.	Demonstrates adequate effort and commitment to the assigned tasks, generally fulfilling the scope requirements.	Demonstrates consistent effort and commitment to the assigned tasks, ensuring successful scope fulfillment.	Demonstrates exceptional effort and commitment to the assigned tasks, going above and beyond to ensure successful scope fulfillment.
	Quality	25%	Little or no effort in developing the application. Outcome of the application does not meet the project objectives.	Some effort seen in developing the application. Most parts of the application does not meet the project objectives.	Lots of effort seen in developing the application. Some parts of the application does not meet the project objectives.	Lots of effort seen in developing the application. Most parts of the application meet the project objectives.	Fantastic effort in developing the application. Application fulfills most part of the project objectives.
Project Management Processes	Product review	20%	Failed to deliver a coherent or informative demonstration. Key functionalities are not effectively shown, and explanations are lacking or nonsensical. The audience gains little to no understanding of the product.	Struggled to deliver a clear and organized demonstration. Key functionalities may be missed or poorly showcased. Explanations are often unclear or inaccurate. The audience gains a limited and potentially confusing understanding of the product.	Delivered a demonstration that covers some key functionalities, but may lack clarity or organization in certain areas. Explanations may be somewhat vague or incomplete. The audience gains a basic understanding of some of the product's capabilities.	Delivered a generally clear and organized demonstration, showcasing most key functionalities of the software. The audience gains a good understanding of the product's capabilities.	Delivered a clear, well-organized, and engaging demonstration that effectively showcases the key functionalities and value of the software. The audience gains a strong understanding of the product's capabilities.
	Clarity of communication	15%	Consistently communicated unclearly and ineffectively in agile interactions, leading to confusion, misunderstandings, and breakdowns in team collaboration and stakeholder engagement. Failed to share necessary information.	Frequently struggled to communicate clearly and concisely in agile interactions. Information sharing may be inconsistent or lack relevance, hindering team collaboration and stakeholder awareness.	Communication in agile interactions is understandable but may occasionally lacked clarity, conciseness, or audience awareness. There might be occasional misunderstandings or delays in information flow.	Generally communicated clearly and concisely in most agile interactions. Shared relevant information adequately, contributed positively to team collaboration and stakeholder engagement.	Consistently communicated in a clear, concise, and audience-appropriate manner across all agile interactions (verbal and written). Proactively shared relevant information, contributing significantly to effective team collaboration and stakeholder engagement.
	Attitude	15%	Did not demonstrate effective collaboration or communication. Participation in discussion was minimal, with little to no constructive feedback provided.	Demonstrated some collaboration and communication, but participation was inconsistent and opportunities for improvement were evident.	Displayed adequate collaboration and communication. Contributed to the discussion, but overall effectiveness was limited. Could improve active listening and engagement.	Consistently demonstrated good collaboration and communication. Participated actively and provided meaningful, constructive feedback during discussions.	Exhibited outstanding collaboration and communication skills. Engaged fully in discussions, actively listened to teammates, and offered insightful, constructive feedback.